Back in 1990, the company's founders could not have dreamed that the small resharpener service they were running from Beilngries in Bavaria would today count among Germany's top 25 tool manufacturers in the sales ranking of the German precision tool industry. The company currently manufactures at four sites with a total production area of 4,300 m² and provides powerful tools for a range of dynamic, high-tech fields worldwide such as the automotive, aviation and aerospace and mechanical engineering industries.

From design to grinding, edge preparation and micro-geometry through to coating, Inovatools has the value-added and quality chain under control.

This means that the precision tools can be tailored even more closely to specialised customer requirements and that lead times are significantly shorter, according to the company. Ditmar Ertel, Managing Director of Inovatools: "Controlling the entire workflow means that we can ensure the highest possible quality standards. As a result, we offer consistently innovative and high-performance cutting solutions that either open up entirely new processing methods or significantly enhance performance in existing applications. All our tools are tailored to their respective applications. Our dedicated technology center for the manufacture of special tools in Mieming, Austria, allows us to respond instantly to individual customer requirements and expedite in-house developments.”
